EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

A strategic plan is an organization's process of defining its strategy, or direction, and making decisions on allocating its resources to pursue this strategy, including its capital and people. Strategic planning is the formal consideration of an organization's future course. All strategic planning should address three key concerns: what we do, how we do it, and how we can excel at it.

To that end, we have several powerful guiding documents and resources which set the framework in which we operate. These documents and resources include the Pueblo City Charter, the City Council's Mission Statement and Core Values, and the Police Department's Mission Statement, Value Statement, and Guiding Principles, as well as a Citizens' Satisfaction Survey conducted every other year since 2010. The most recent survey was completed in September, 2016.

It is our intent to use this plan to identify community and police department needs for the future. If no long-term goals are set, there will be minimal progress in improving our operations and the delivery of services. This plan serves as our roadmap to clarify what we intend to do.

We are ever aware of the competing needs of the community and the limited resources we have available for all municipal services from which to draw. We realize a strategic plan must be a fluid document considering our rapidly changing world, so it must be viewed as a guide that may be subject to minor or major revisions in response to what is happening in our community and in the world. Although this plan identifies some major resource needs anticipated over the next five years, it is not intended to be a budget document, nor is it all-inclusive or detailed. However, this plan will serve as a reference during the annual budget planning process.

The success or failure of this plan is contingent upon the degree of commitment invested by the City Administration, our employees, and the community at large. Therefore, it is vital that all our community's stakeholders have a shared vision of our mission and our strategy. I want to thank the citizens who took part in shaping this strategic plan. We have incorporated your collective wisdom and we hope to become an even better community partner in the future.

Respectfully submitted,

Dr. Luis Velez
Chief of Police

INTRODUCTION

CITY CHARTER

Under the provisions of the charter adopted in April 1954, Pueblo has a Council-Manager government with seven members of Council, and the Council elects its President annually. The City Manager, hired by the Council, oversees the administration of the City. The term of office for Council members is four years; however, the terms are staggered. Under the provisions of Article XX, Section 6 of the Colorado Constitution, Pueblo has been established as a home-rule city. This grants broad powers of self-government at the local level. It mandates, among other things, the creation of several City Departments to include the Police Department. The Charter for the City of Pueblo, as adopted April 6, 1954, sets forth the functions of the Police Department. This forms the basis for the existence of the Police Department and it outlines the services to be provided. Section 10-2 of the City Charter entitled "Functions of Department", states:

The Department of Police will be responsible for the preservation of public peace, prevention of crime, apprehension of criminals, protection of the rights of persons and property and the enforcement of the laws of the State, and the ordinances of the City as provided by this Charter and all rules and regulations made in accordance therewith, and such other functions as the City Manager and Council may prescribe for public safety. All members of the Department shall have all powers with respect to the service of criminal process and the enforcement of criminal laws as are vested in police officers by the general statutes.

CITY COUNCIL

The Pueblo City Council held several meetings during 2012 to discuss goals and objectives for the City of Pueblo. From these meetings, a Mission Statement and a list of Core Values were adopted by the City Council to create an esteemed public service character for the City of Pueblo. The Council established the following:

Mission Statement

We, the City of Pueblo, representing a community of diverse culture, character, and history:

- commit to upholding the City Charter, all City Ordinances, and the highest standards of conduct;
- commit to promoting and enhancing the well being and quality of life for Pueblo's residents, visitors, and businesses by providing excellent services in an efficient, respectful, and courteous manner;

- commit to responsible stewardship of community resources and values and to support all segments of the community;
- commit to a model of professionalism that ensures respectful and complete consideration of all decisions and decrees; and
- commit to strategic growth, all facets of economic development, and sustainability.

Vision Statement

By uniting our energies and working cooperatively with the citizens of Pueblo, we will develop Pueblo, Colorado into one significant, influential, and prosperous community with opportunities for all.

We Value . . .

- the resourcefulness of each individual
- entrepreneurship
- departmental accountability and professionalism
- integrity and transparency
- responsive and respectful service to all
- diversity

Adopted by the Pueblo City Council

May 2012

THE COMMUNITY WE SERVE

Population

Pueblo is the major provider of employment, housing, and services for all of Pueblo County, therefore population considerations for the provision of services must take into account the immediate surrounding area, which includes Pueblo West and its citizens who predominantly work, shop, and recreate in the City of Pueblo. The 2015 U.S. Census Bureau reports an estimated population of 109,412 for the City and 163,591 for Pueblo County in 2015.

<http://www.colorado-demographics.com/pueblo-demographics>

The City's transient population varies depending on seasonal and annual events. The Colorado State Fair and other major events such as the Chile & Frijoles Festival; National Street Rods; Boats, Bands, and Barbeque; Sunbelt Soccer Tournament; and high school, college, and university programs and enrollment statistics contribute to these fluctuating needs for police services.

Age

According to the 2015 U.S. Census Bureau Report, the median age is 37.7 years; 23.3% of the population is under 18 years of age, and 16.2% of the population is over 65 years of age. With the aging of the baby boomers' generation, the percentage of senior citizens is increasing and this will have an impact on demands for services provided by the Police Department. Likewise, the trends of modern society regarding teen pregnancy, high school dropout rates, drug use, and gang activity demand a higher level of services than in the past, directed at protecting and serving the needs of our youth within the community.

Race

According to the 2015 U.S. Census Bureau Report, the City of Pueblo is comprised of 50.7% Hispanic or Latino, 44% White Non-Hispanic residents, 2.1% Black, 0.8% Asian, 0.5% Native American, and less than 1% for other races.

Poverty

According to the U.S. Census Report for 2015, the median income of all households in the City of Pueblo is $34,889 as compared to the rest of Colorado at $59,448. 32.1% of residents are living below the poverty line, compared to 17.3% for the rest of Colorado. Of the family types living in poverty, 42.1% are single female households as compared to married couple households at 37.8% and single male households at 20.1%.

POLICE DEPARTMENT OVERVIEW

The Pueblo Police Department is comprised of highly professional and dedicated members who strive to protect and serve our community, handling 402,248 phone calls in 2015, including 110,908 emergency 911 calls. The Department operates under a $27.7 million dollar budget and is structured now along the lines of two bureaus, each commanded by a Deputy Chief of Police who reports directly to the Chief of Police. The Chief reports directly to the City Manager who serves at the direction of the Pueblo City Council. The two police bureau duties and responsibilities are delineated according to three major service objectives: Operations, Investigations, and Support Services. Authorized staffing for the Department consists of 207 sworn officers and 66 civilian employees, plus approximately 30 temporary/part-time employees. The Police Department operates out of the Pueblo Municipal Justice Center at 200 South Main Street and one neighborhood police satellite which is located at 731 East Fourth Street.

Except for management and temporary employees, two unions, the International Brotherhood of Police Officers (IBPO) Local 537 and the Pueblo Association of Government Employees (PAGE), represent the employees. Both unions have collective bargaining agreements with the City of Pueblo.

The Police Department is committed to providing the highest level of service to the community in an efficient and effective manner. We are dedicated to working cooperatively with the community to achieve our goals of protecting and serving each person equitably and fairly. We are living in times of rapid change, with expanding technological capabilities, intertwined with threats and challenges posed by economic, cultural, ideological, and environmental changes. As an example, the legalization of recreational marijuana in January, 2014, seems to have impacted the homeless population which has grown steadily and significantly during the past several years; the demands for police services based on mental health and drug related issues have also created added pressure for the department.

Over 60.3% of the sworn members of the Police Department hold at least an Associates Degree, and yet, on-going training and education remain vital to our success. The commitment to continually develop, train, and equip our people is paramount to accomplishing our general mission of enhancing the quality of life in the City of Pueblo. During 2015 the department provided 19,612 hours of training for all personnel. In 2016 we have incorporated a new web-based training platform that will enhance our current training capabilities into the future.

GOALS AND OBJECTIVES

This strategic plan is formatted into major goal areas and further divided into specific objectives and performance strategies, which will be the focus of our efforts. Performance measures are utilized to evaluate the effectiveness of the Department's efforts. Every opportunity was taken to incorporate the perspective of community members in the development of these measures. During 2016 the Department conducted an Internal Survey of our employees; an External Survey of community members; and we conducted a meeting with community members representing a cross section of the City's demographic population as well as selected professional and business groups that generally interact with members of the Police Department (i.e. Medical, Education, The Department's 7 major goals are to:

- 1. Provide a high quality, well-prepared workforce to carry out the mission of the Department in an effective and efficient manner.
- 2. Establish and maintain a positive relationship with the people we serve to enhance the quality of life for everyone in the community.
- 3. Protect Lives and Property
- 4. Identify and Apprehend Criminals
- 5. Maintain Order in the Community
- 6. Professional Delivery of Services
- 7. Maximize Resource Acquisition and Utilize Resources Effectively and Efficiently

This Strategic Plan contains the goals and objectives necessary to maintain the high level of service expected by our community and members of the Police Department.

GOAL ONE

Provide a high quality, well-prepared workforce to carry out the mission of the Department in an effective and efficient manner.

A police department can only be as effective as the character, dedication, skills, and abilities possessed by its members. Therefore, it is imperative that only the best candidates are selected for hire, retention, assignment, and development, and that they are provided the tools, training, and support necessary to carry out their duties.

Objective One – Maintain high standards for recruiting new employees. [Services Bureau]

The City implemented a four-year degree requirement as a hiring standard for new officers effective in 2004, then reduced the requirement to an Associate Degree, or 60 semester hours, in 2011, in order to expand the available pool of candidates. Currently 6% of our sworn officers possess a Master's Degree or higher, 46.2% of sworn officers possess a Bachelor's Degree or higher, and 53.2% possess an Associate's degree or higher. Additionally, all sworn officers and dispatchers must pass a rigorous background investigation, psychological, and polygraph examination.

Performance Strategies:

1. Continue to require an Associate's Degree or 60 semester hours from an accredited college or university for entry-level sworn police officer positions.
2. Require all full-time employees to pass a background investigation, polygraph exam, and psychological evaluation prior to appointment to City employment in the Police Department.
3. Engage in year round recruitment strategies at seminars, colleges, and military establishments to get high-quality, well-prepared applicants (C).

7. During subsequent hiring cycles the Department will look for additional opportunities to reach out to minority applicants and women to ensure we have the most qualified and diverse pool of applicants possible.
8. The Pueblo Police Department must be able to promote itself in a professional manner. Such marketing tools as stand up banners and table banners will be used during recruiting events, along with new recruiting brochures designed to include current Police Officers of different genders and ethnicity.

GOAL FIVE

Maintain Order in the Community

Non-crime calls help police effectiveness in dealing with crime in several ways. Police intervention can diffuse potentially violent situations and prevent them from escalating into criminal violence. Non-crime calls give officers broader exposure to the community that results in the officers having more information that may help them solve crimes, and the latent coercive power of the police can help steer potential lawbreakers into law-abiding behavior. Effective responses to non-crime calls can help the police build greater credibility with the public, which will help the Department address issues raised in the Citizen Satisfaction Survey's conducted by the City in 2014 and 2016.
